THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 2d day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

The consideration of Kuchin's nomination as Collector at Fond du Lac, was again postponed yesterday owing to the absence of Senator Carpenter, whose health is poor.

General Lucius Fairchild is being crowded with big dinners on the eve of being transferred to the Spanish court. It is evident that his popularity is not confined to his own country or his own countrymen.

The New Orleans editors settled their quarrel on "the field of honor" yesterday Of course no blood was shed, and they shook hands as friends. Duelling is getting to be much less dangerous than base ball, and as at present pursued, will be recommended by physicians as a pleasant out door exercise, and can be safely indulged in ,if care is taken not to catch cold.

A bill has been presented in the House appropriating money for erecting a monument to the memory of Key, the author of "The Star Spangled Banner." He has in that song a more lasting monument than marble, and most mortals would live happy, if they could be assured of so firm a hold on the memory of after generations.

The fact that nineteen murders have been committed in Chicago within seventy-six days would naturally be thought to be an argument against the capital punishment law, in that State, were it not that for several years the law has lost all terrors because not executed. Even a good law has little effect when by evasions it has ceased to be aught but a law in letter but not in acts. The cause of such an increase in crime is not chargeable there to bad law but to no law

The Fusionists have heard from the Supreme Court again, and they give up in despair. Smith has concluded that the struggle don't pay, and is homesick. The better part of the Fusionists propose to take their seats in the Legislature, and the others will spend their time wearing out the passes which some over-anxious railroaders have given them. Poor Pillsbury, too, has lost his grip, and can do nothing now but howl in despair, having gained nothing but a chance to fight the libel suit brought against him.

The Dublin Council has voted to abandon its annual inaugural banquet of the Lord Mayor, and give the usual cost, about $2,500, to the poor of the city. This looks very generous, but back of it appears another motive. The Duke of Marlborough refused an invitation because the Lord Mayor had presided at a meeting of Irish members which passed resolutions offensive to him. The Lord Mayor in turn indignant at the first break in this custom which had occurred in forty years, declared there should be no banquet. Under these circumstances Dublin should not boast of its liberality. In our own country many cities have of late donated from private purses larger sums for the distressed Irish. In Rochester, N. Y., over $2,000 was given the other evening, and that is only a sample.

THE WAR OF THE WIRES.

Considerable interest is at present felt in a prospective war between telegraph companies, the first skirmish of which has already opened. The new French cable company opened its business in New York Tuesday, and its domestic connection, the American Union telegraph company, opened at the same time. On the other side is the Anglo-American cable company of which the Western Union is the domestic connection. We thus see two land forces, to each of which is attached a naval corps in the form of cable companies. Already the marine forces are in conflict. The Anglo-American cable company, has reduced its rates to a shilling a word for cablegrams to France and the continent, the rates of the new French cable being six times as high. There is a prospect for retaliation. The French cable company is reticent, and says it will probably keep its present rate until the independent cable between England and France is completed. What it will do then is not said but it is probable that it will then attack the rates to England, as badly as its opponent has slaughtered the rates to France. Along with this comes the rumor that the French cable's domestic connection, the American Union, will begin the attack on land, by cutting the rates of the Western Union. The American Union, though organized only last May, has put up twelve thousand miles of wire between Boston and Omaha, has leased for ninety-nine years the Dominion Company's lines in Canada, amounting to twelve thousand miles more, has contracts with the Baltimore & Ohio & Pennsylvania railroad companies for the use of four thousand miles more, is arranging to construct Southern lines, and expects by March 1 to make connections with the Union Pacific and Central Pacific lines, so as to communicate with San Francisco. Such a company can make a bitter fight, if it so wills. Already some of the eastern rates on short distances have been cut from twenty-five to fifty per cent., but the company assert that for the present the rates will be substantially the same as those of the Western Union.

There is promise of a lively cutting of rates. It is quite probable, though, that it will be of short duration, and will end as do all such wars, giving no permanent benefit to the public, disarranging business matters for the time, and resulting in a pool, or in one company swallowing the other. The fact that Jay Gould is the leading spirit in the American Union Company, has aroused the suspicion that the enterprise will be sold out to its rival when the latter has been annoyed into offering a profitable price. Gould used the Atlantic and the Pacific Company as a weapon against the Western Union in this way, until it was thus absorbed, and the present may prove a like plan.

MUCH DEPRESSED.

Another Decision From the Maine Supreme Court—The Fusionists Again Beaten.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 27—The Fusionists are very much depressed at the receipt of the news from the court. Major Smith said he believed that the controversy had now ended. He said that while the previous opinion of the Judges was based on the Republican statement, there was no room for reasonable doubt; but, in view of the fact that the court had decided against them on the Fusion statement, they could but gracefully submit. He had got through playing Governor, and should go home. Major Smith's views will be adopted by the better part of the Fusionists, who will take their seats in the Legislature.

Sawyer says he still considers himself Secretary of State.

Henry Ingalls, the leading member of the Fusion House, says he is not prepared to give an opinion to-night, but has always been in favor of yielding to the court.

INDIAN BUREAU.

The Investigation—Probable Removal of Commissioner Hayt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—The Committee of the Board of Indian Commissioners, which has been investigating the charges made against Indian Commissioner Hayt by General Fisk, have been at work for two weeks almost constantly, and to-day they called Secretary Schurz and Chief Clerk Lockwood, of the Interior Department, before them. The evidence which has been found by the Committee and furnished by General Fisk to sustain his charges, was laid before the Secretary and he expressed great surprise. The committee declined to furnish the evidence or even an abstract of it, until the investigation is completed, which will be some time this week, when it will be furnished Secretary Schurz to lay before the President, and will probably result in the removal of Commissioner Hayt.

This will be followed by the report of the Senate Committee on the Cheyenne outbreak, which will condemn in strong terms the inefficiency and mismanagement of the Commissioner, as far as regards those Indians. The strongest evidence of the Commissioner's inefficiency is found in the records of his own office. There is little doubt but Hayt will be removed within a few weeks, and Secretary Schurz is already looking about for his successor.

THE UTES.

Miss Meeker's Testimony Before the Indian Commission.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—Miss Josie Meeker was before the House Indian Committee to-day, and told the story of the massacre of her father and of the causes which led to it. She talked without embarrassment and with great clearness. She said the Indians were incited to the deed by their intense native aversion to take on civilized modes of life. They argued that if once they began to plow the land and raise stock they would be expected to continue in the new life. Their young men would grow up with no taste for the chase and the wild, savage life which has characterized them for centuries. Another hardship would be the stoppage of Government annuities, which is now the sweetest boon to the Indians of Colorado. Thornburg may have acted with too great precipitancy, and his campaign threw the Utes into great consternation.

FITZ JOHN PORTER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—Mr. Randolph, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported the bill already published, for the relief of Fitz John Porter.

Mr. Logan made a minority report. He dissented in toto from the preamble; first, that the President had no authority to organize a commission to examine the case by taking ex-parte testimony; second, that he action of the court-martial is not reviewable by Congress; third, that Congress has no right to pay persons for services not rendered because of exclusion from the army.

The bill was placed on the calendar.

THAT DUEL.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27—The duel between Major E A Burke and Major H J Hearsey came off to-day at the old dueling ground at Metairie Ridge, about two miles from the center of the city. The locality is not far from the Half-way house, on the shell road. A change was made in Major Hearsey's seconds before going out. Henry G. Carleton took the place of Senator Nutt. The parties went out to the dueling ground about 3 o'clock this afternoon. The hour fixed for the duel was half-past 3 Besides their seconds, each principal was accompanied by two friends. The accompanying surgeons were Dr. Halliday and Dr. Scott. Arriving on the ground the principals were placed by Mr. Carleton The distance was ten paces. The weapons used were dueling pistols. The word was given by Mr. Page Baker, one of Major Hearsey's seconds. At the word both fired Neither party was hit. The pistols were again loaded and the principals placed in position At the second shot neither party was hit. The the seconds then interfered and an understanding was arrived at. It was agreed that the principals should advance, shake hands, and each other acknowledge that the other was a man of honor and courage this the principals did. The whole party then returned to the city.

OBITUARY.

NEW YORK, Jan 27—Horace Thompson, of St. Paul, widely known throughout the West and Northwest, died at the Fifth Avenue hotel to-night. Mr. Thompson was a Vermonter by birth, and came to St. Paul from Georgia, with his late brother, James E. Thompson, in 1859, and has since been engaged in banking and other business, and accumulated a large fortune His brother died in 1870. Mr. Thompson was of middle age, and he, till attacked with pneumonia in New York, appeared to have a score of years of activity yet before him.

DROPPED DEAD.

FOX LAKE, Jan. 27—At Horicon, about noon to-day, A W Hall, roadmaster of the northern division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, dropped dead from heart disease, while on his way home from the depot. By his death the company loses a capable track manager, the employes a faithful friend, and his acquaintances generally a genial companion. He leaves a wife and two children His funeral takes place at 1 p. m. Thursday.

SENSATION.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28—The latest railroad sensation is a report that the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Company has secured control of the Chicago & Pacific Railroad Although nothing definite about the transaction has come to light, yet everything indicates that the report is true.

THE SPEECH.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—In the Senate this morning, consideration was resumed of the joint resolution introduced by Mr Bayard to withdraw legal-tender power of United States notes.

Striking Presence of Mind.

From the Car Builder.

A passenger train on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road was rounding a sharp curve, just under a piece of tall timber. The watchful engineer saw a tree lying across the track sixty feet ahead of the locomotive. The train was running at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour, and to check its momentum before reaching the obstruction was out of the question. The engineer took in the situation at a glance. He threw the throttle wide open, the engine shot ahead with the velocity of an arrow, and with such tremendous force that the tree was picked up by the cow-catcher and flung from the track as if it had been a willow withe. A man with not so cool a head would have made the best possible use of those sixty feet in the way of checking the speed of the train. That would have caused a disaster.

Bradford, an engineer, was bringing an express train over the Kankakee line from Indianapolis. As the engine shot out from a deep cut and struck a short piece of straight track leading to a bridge, a herd of colts was discovered running down the road. The distance to the river was only 100 feet. Bradford knew he could not stop the train, and also knew that if the colts beat the locomotive to the bridge they would fall between the timbers, and the obstruction would throw the train off, and probably result in a frightful loss of life. It took him only half a second to think of all this. The other half was utilized in giving his engine such a quantity of steam that it covered that 100 feet of track in about the same time that a bolt of lightning would travel from the tip of a lightning rod to the ground. The colts were struck and hurled down the embankment just as they were entering the bridge.

Rich, But Not Gaudy.

A hundred years ago a young Englishman was the admired of all admirers at the opera at Paris, because of the magnificence of his innumerable toilets. A Flemish baron, who happened to be present one evening when the Englishman was arrayed like unto Solomon and all his wives in their glory, observed in the Englishman's hearing that the son of Albion's dress was very well for every day, but that if he (the Fleming) were to give his mind to it he could appear in a suit that would utterly eclipse the Englishman's. The result was a discussion, in which the Englishman joined, and a bet of a thousand louis, the man who presented himself next day in the costliest raiment to take the money, it being stipulated that in making the inventory no account was to be taken of jewelry and precious stones. Next day the Englishman was promptly on hand, clad in white satin, costly, wonderful, and the Fleming mostly appeared in a plain brown suit, dubbing him "like the paper on the wall, and evidently purchased ready made. "Shame and disgrace sit nodding on your coat tails!" cried his friends, to whom he has given the straight tip: "Let us pay up our bets, and do you go and drown yourself." "Wait a moment, gentlemen," said the Baron, calmly removing his coat; "this garment is lined with a material that cost 100,000 livres a yard. He had lined his coat with a genuine Rubens, and took the money.

The Marriage Fees of Ministers.

From the New York Examiner and Chronicle (Bapt.)

The Observer puts an effectual stopper on the statement, so widely published, that Dr. John Hall's marriage fees amount to $10,000 a year. Dr Hall himself says that in no one year of his ministry have those fees amounted to a twelfth part of that sum. This is something of a reduction from the sum named, but it is about as near to the truth as hundreds of things that are published every day as facts The Observer does not believe that there is a pastor in any denomination who receives $500 a year in marriage fees We doubt whether the average sum received from this source by the ministers of all denominations exceeds $25 a year. Ministers have been known to ride five miles to perform a marriage ceremony, and receive two dollars for it.

From a Distinguished Physician.

Prof. Green, a distinguished allopathic physician, wrote to the Medical Record of Atlanta, Ga., to the effect that after all other means had failed, he sent for the Kidney Cure, (Safe Kidney and Liver Cure), and to his astonishment cured a serious case of Bright's Disease by administering it, and afterwards found it equally beneficial in other cases. He advised his brother physicians to use it in preference to anything else for kidney disorders.

DISTEMPER IN DOGS.

Will Dr. Horne please give his views and experience in the raising of young dogs. Is the distemper curable, if so, how? If not curable, is there any way to prevent it. J G R.

Janesville, Jan'y 20th.

Distemper in dogs is not, by any means curable. The thousand remedies and opinions to the contrary notwithstanding. Like small pox, scarlet fever, measles &c, in mankind, and strangles colts, distemper in the horse must, and will, run its course, no matter what system of medication is followed, or how much skill may be brought to bear on such cases Like the above mentioned diseases in children and colts, the distemper attacks young dogs about the same age, pro rata, usually: the dog being short lived, the horse medium, and man long lived. During the first year, all that can be done, is to keep the dog in good condition by proper food. This should never be of raw flesh of any kind. Boiled milk porridge, made of oatmeal, or corn meal should form the bulk of food. A small piece of meat, or a good choice bone or two, may be boiled in the porridge twice a week. Give vegetables, cooked, fish &c, occasionally. Keep dry, give good exercise, feed moderately always. As soon as the dog is seen to droop and become dumpish, then is the time to nurse him carefully, and the less poisonous drugs you administer the better. If the eyes are scabby, with dribbling from the mouth of mucus, an occasional emetic will be good. If severe constipation of the bowels is present, from half a dram to two drams of syrup of buckthorn should be given according to the size of the animal. If the constipation is obstinate, then oily injections must be given. One ounce of sweet lard boiled in clean water, and taken off when cold, may be put into hot water; keep well mixed, and when at about 100 degrees give about 4 ounces at a time until the bowels respond; keep constantly warm, but not hot by a stove as is the common custom, neither allow the poor creatures to be out in a cold, damp shed. This is all that need be, or can be done to help the dog and carry him safely through the most critical period of his life.

DISEASES OF THE HORSE, CAUSES AND REMEDIES—NO. 18—GREASE.

This disease is not so prevalent as it used to be. In fact there is not one case of developed grease, where there used to be a dozen. This is to be accounted for by various reasons. Good roads, better stabling, better attention generally, and not least, a better system of feeding, and of food used. Many eminent writers contend that grease, and scratches too, are the direct result of bad stable management, more than all other causes put together. Whilst I admit this to be a great exciting cause beyond a question, I am constrained to say, that from my experience, it is chiefly the offspring of tainted parents. I mean distinctly to say, that grease and scratches are the result of hereditary predisposition, more than anything else or all put together. No animal of a scrofulous nature should, in any condition, be allowed to propagate. Breeders being much more careful in this matter is another great reason for the decrease of this foul disease in the horse; in fact a real inveterate case of grease is now comparatively rare. Horses with weak heels, whose skin and sebaceous glands are predisposed to disease, are the animals which need, and must have, every possible care, or grease in some form, will show itself. This liability to affection will quite easily be known by the common, intelligent man. All he has to do is to notice the effect of cold and wet on the heels of a horse driven beside another. In the one inclined to disease of the heels, he will, by careful examination, find unnatural heat, and some tenderness, whilst the companion enjoys perfect immunity from anything of the kind. Such animals affected as above, are the ones which need more care and attention, or they are quite likely to be a source of much trouble, annoyance, and expense, to the owner, and suffering to the poor horse. The heels should always be wiped dry with a soft cloth of any kind. When this is done, annoint with cosmoline, or glycerine and alcohol half and half

Horses whose absorbents are at fault, should not be fed corn, it is too heating, and often causes grease, which in the various stages, are termed grease, scratches, water farcy, weed shot milk leg, etc.

REMEDY—Simple as some persons think the nature and care of this disease to be, I must inform them it is quite of a very obstinate nature and often resists all and every form of treatment, and baffles the skill of the expert. One of the best courses to follow in the first appearance of the disease, is to give a dose of physic, and if the leg swells, apply a good 12 foot-4-inch wide bandage evenly applied, immediately after going into the stable; Keep on from three to five hours; then remove, and rub the legs quite hard, and long, upward. Then remove the bandage. This will often succeed, and prevent oozing of serum, and ulceration. When severe cracks appear—ulceration, generally. The best advice I can give is to get competent person to treat the Animal After grease attains what is termed the grope stage, the case is beyond cure, and the poor horse is a disgusting object emitting a stench abominable, and is at this stage dangerous to man for he may become inoculated with the virus, and become loathsome to himself and others, and suffer untold agonies. There are forms of palliation for this stage. But the animal not being fit to live, I prefer not to give any whatever.

H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.

THE LIFE OF AN M. C.

How He is Tasked, Worried, and Bled.

Washington Evening Star.

It is a common thing to hear men envy the "easy life" of a Congressman. To persons who never, or rarely, visit Washington and are therefore unacquainted with the duties of a Congressman and the labors that are imposed upon him, the belief is universal that a member dwells upon "flowery beds of ease," and that he has nothing to do but make a speech occasionally and draw $5,000 per year.

A more erroneous idea never prevailed. A member of Congress who attends properly to the needs of his district and the calls of his constituents has but little time for pleasure or recreation. He is one of the hardest worked men in this country. Years ago, when the population was smaller, when mail facilities were of the stage-coach order, and when but few citizens had any business with the public departments at Washington, Congressmen had not a great deal to do. Their constituents seldom came to the capital, because the trip was tedious and expensive. Letters were few and far between and there were but few pensions and claims to look after. Then the M C's gave themselves up very largely to pleasure. In those days cards, horse racing and cock fighting were popular amusements with the national legislators. Ever since the war the demands of the constituents upon their members have been growing until now a Congressman is expected to attend promptly to all business that every man in his district may have in Washington. If he neglects these calls upon him he jeopardizes his hold upon his seat.

THE MAN WHO HAS A CLAIM

against the government for services during the war, for property taken, or for anything else, rarely ever thinks of putting it in the hands of any of the numerous law firms or claim agents in this city. He encloses the papers relating to the matter to the member from his district or one of the Senators of his State, and urges that his business be hurried through. Should the Congressman fail to establish the claim and get the money, he frequently, because of his failure, makes an enemy of the claimant, who forthwith declares and works for some other aspirant for Congressional honors. The last time, General Rice, late Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Ohio, was in Washington he said: "A Congressman who tries to meet all the demands upon him has the work of three men to perform. In the first place there's his duty upon the floor. If he keeps track of all the bills and public measures, and labors for the success of his own he has as much as any one man ought to do. Then there's his committee work. Not only the work of the committees to which he may belong, but there are matters referred to nearly all the committees which he ought to look after. Then there's his department work. There is not a department of the government, aye, scarcely a division of any department, in which some of his constituents haven't something of interest to them. Applications for appointment to positions, claims, pensions, and the many stages through which all these matters have to go." General Rice did not say this complainingly for no member ever attended more faithfully to his duties than he. He was simply showing that a Congressman's life was not one of ease.

DEMANDS UPON THE CONGRESSIONAL POCKET.

Besides the demands of the nature described, there are a thousand and one pecuniary calls upon members. They are called upon by mail to contribute to all charitable movements in their respective districts, and Senators must meet such requests from the entire State. Then if a constituent, even though he may have been "out on a lark," finds himself in Washington without money, he expects the Congressman who represent him to replenish his purse and "no questions asked." In many cases men who have indulged in pleasure in New York, Boston, and other eastern cities until their funds were exhausted have frequently telegraphed or come in person to their member or Senators for money to "take them home."

* * * * * * *

Letters from constituents must be answered promptly, and in order to do this there is scarcely a member who is not compelled to employ a secretary or an amanuensis. Upon an average it takes three hours a day at least, for a member to read and reply to the letters he receives. The impression that Congressmen have nothing else to do but enjoy themselves is altogether wrong. They have their troubles and annoyances as well as other people, and, upon the whole, do not deserve half the censure they get.

Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette.

The other day Dr. Washington, a colored man, was arraigned before a Justice of the Peace, charged with something like medical mal-practice. He had given a colored man a dose of medicine, and the colored man lived but one hour afterward.

The Justice was a colored man, and probably knew as much of law as the Doctor did of medicine. When the Doctor had been arraigned, the Justice asked:

"Sence de Wah, sah."

"What books on de fizick an de human reconstruction did yer study?"

"Oh, I studied 'bout—Cornstalk's plosophy 'mong de number. Now, Judge, let me ax you one pint. What books on de law did yer study?"

"I'se been, prisoner afore de Bar, ter try dis case, an not to stan' a 'zamination. Comin' down from de law language to plain nigger an' mule, what the h—ll made you kill dat man? 'Splain yourself, sah, or I'll put de clamps of my 'thoroty on yer."

"Et dat's a man in dis country what can 'splain hisself, I'se de man," said the doctor, arising. "Some few days ago I 'vented a new medicine from roots dug outen de groun' Hit struk me dat de medicine would cure de rheumatuz, an' when I went ter see de man what is dead now I concluded to 'sperlment wid hit. All medical 'ventions has ter be proved. When Bright 'ventured ter kidney disease, he didn't know hit would work till he tried hit. I figured hit up jes' dis way: Says I ter myself, if dis medicine cures dis man hits good; but ef hit kills him, hit won't do ter tamper wid, or let lie aroun' loose 'mong chilum. Well, I gin him der medicine, and about an hour afterward he was dead. How would I a 'nowed dat de medicine wasn't fitten for use ef I hadn't a tried it? Don't yer see de geography ob my gegement? Science must be 'vanced, yer know."

"Dat's a fack," said the Justice, after musing awhile; "de pint are well sustained. Mr Constable, turn dis man loose and caution him not to 'vent any moah medicine in my township."

Humors of the Bench.

From the Albany Law Journal.

This is, substantially, the "Sapling Story": Judge Marshall was peculiarly great in his faculty of mental abstraction. Riding along in his sulky, the vehicle came to a full stop by the wheels running between two saplings. The Chief, undisturbed, retained his sulky seat in the broiling sun until an old negro who happened to know him came along, and roused him from his reverie with a familiar "Hi? Massa Marshall, what's the matter?" Marshall, C. J.: "Well, uncle, I seem to be stuck fast here—can't you get an ax and cut down one of these saplings? I suppose I can't pull through." "Certainly, Massa Marshall, certainly; but, Massa Marshall, wha' for you no just back your sulky out?" The Chief Justice reversed his judgment and wheels, anticipating the Fifteenth amendment and admitting the negro to practice as amicus curiæ.

The story of the thief Hogg, who implored mercy from Lord Bacon on the ground of kinship, and received the answer: "You will not be bacon until you have been hung," of course, should not be attributed to Lord Francis Bacon, as you have said. It emanated, however, from Lord Nicholas Bacon, the father of Francis, who was a judge in the time of Queen Elizabeth. You may find an amusing passage in the proceedings of the famous trial of the Seven Bishops worth noting. The several justices of the King's Bench had summed up the evidence, the jury were about to retire, and the following colloquy took place: Lord Chief Justice—"Gentlemen of the jury, have you a mind to drink before you go?" Jury—"Yes, my lord, if you please." Wine was sent for for the jury.

Caution.

A WORD TO THOSE WHO USE POROUS PLASTERS. It is a universally acknowledged fact that

The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under the name of Capsicum or Capsicin. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters selling at any price it is important for the consumer to know which is the best. It is well known that some of the cheap plasters have been examined and found to contain injurious ingredients which make them dangerous to use, causing paralysis and other diseases. All genuine BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTERS have the word CAPCINE cut in them. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Pharmaceutical Chemists, New York. PRICE 25 CTS. 23w4w deod

A PLUCKY VIRGINIA GIRL.

Petersburg, Va., Index-Appeal, Jan. 8.

Major-General G. K. Warren, formerly commanding the Sixth corps of the army of the Potomac, accompanied by Captain Cotton, also of the United States army, recently visited the battle-field of Five Forks, in Dinwiddie county, the scene of one of the last battles around Petersburg. The object of their visit was to make a survey and plat of the field, and the positions of the conditions of the contending armies, to be used in the court of inquiry before which General Warren is having an investigation as to his promptness in moving to the fight. In order to get the exact data and a complete situation of affairs, it became necessary for Captain Cotten to run a line of survey through the premises of a gentleman living in the vicinity—which line was just outside of the yard of the residence—between it and the orchard. The owner of the property happened to be away from home at the time, and his wife was the custodian of the manor. She discovered that something unusual was going on, as to the nature of which she had not been informed, and about which her permission it seems, had not been asked. Imagining that a trespass was being committed, she went out to the spot armed with a double-barreled gun, and ordered the engineer and his assistants away. Captain Cotten, who, by the way, is a genial and courteous gentleman, undertook to explain his presence there and the object he wished to accomplish; but the lady declined to accept his explanation, declaring in a positive and determined manner that she did not intend to have the farm parceled out into "forty-acre" lots. The captain hesitated, hoping to make his presence and his motives understood, but he was again ordered to leave—and that immediately—with an intimation from the lady that, though she was not in the late war, she would be in this if he did not move forthwith. The captain quickly perceived that it would be wise in him to go, and he retired with the best grace possible under the circumstances. Subsequently, however, the object of the visit of the officers was explained to the lady by some of the neighbors, and the survey was allowed to proceed. The misapprehension under which the lady labored was a very natural one, and she manifested remarkable courage and decision under the circumstances Our opinion is more than ever confirmed that the Southern ladies are not only the fairest and gentlest, but the bravest in the world.

A Cure for Cholera.

J. A. Siddens in United Service.

The cholera—that terrible scourge of the human race—was, in 1820-'51, comparatively a new disease. There is evidence extant that it was known in India more than a hundred years ago; but it seems to have attracted little attention until 1817-'18, when it burst out in the south of India with fearful force, and spread its devastation in a westerly direction, until it ravaged Europe for some years. Since then it has maintained its position in nearly all parts of the world, baffling the efforts and confounding the science of the most able practitioners Whether it was epidemic or endemic remained a question, and the remedy when it seized an individual, was a problem difficult of solution. Brandy alone or mixed with laudanum was tried, in the incipience of the disease ineffectually; ice in allaying the burning thirst of the sufferer, was more efficacious, but neither of the means sufficed to arrest the rapid progress of the disorder. Not until 1866 was an infallible cure discovered, and as that new system is still less known than such a blessing deserves to be, I may be excused for mentioning it.

A Dr. Ribton, who had been practicing for some years in Naples, on the outbreak of the cholera in that filthy town, applied himself to the discovery of the substance in the form of drugs that would have any specific action on the choleraic poison. He took the ordinary method of testing the efficacy of the drugs by bringing them into contact with men who had died of the disease, and he found that camphor was the nearest approach to affinity with the poison supposed to exist. But the microscope revealed, under the white lining of the diseased membrane, a certain substance of an alkaline nature, which required an auxiliary to camphor in its removal. Accordingly after divers experiments, Dr. Ribton hit upon hydrochloric acid, and by combining its gas with camphor, "chloride of camphogen" gave the happy results. Applied diluted with oil to the diseased membrane, it at once removed every trace of the virus. Dr. Ribton then prepared a medicine on the principle of his discovery, and the effect was a perfect cure in every case, though some of the patients were suffering from the gravest symptoms before treatment commenced. As much as sixteen to twenty-four hours had elapsed since attack set in; the voice was gone, the pulse was thready, and cyanosis had begun.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acidified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

NONSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in private, not only freely recommend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint yet.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its great merit so that their suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. If you see proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish.

Very truly yours, S. D. BALDWIN & CO.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Unless the vital spark has fled the body, restoration by means of electricity is possible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued thousands, apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

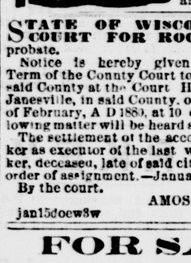

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are too well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and unitedly produce more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

"SEMINAL PASTILLE"

SHAPE & SIZE OF A SEMINAL PASTILLE

A Valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions & Impotency by the only true way, viz: Direct Application to the principal Seat of the Disease, acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Seminal Vesicles Ejaculatory Ducts, Prostrate Gland and Urethra. The use of the Remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dirkness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Etc. Etc. and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, where it has been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in these troubles, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no Nonsense about this Preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. ——During the eight years that it has been in general use, we have thousands of testimonials as to its value, and it is now exceeded by the Medical Profession to be the most rational means yet discovered of reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in a neat box, enough to last a month, and sent in a plain wrapper by mail sealed for $3.—Two boxes, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure unless in severe cases) $5 ——Three boxes lasting three full months, will stop emissions, and restore vigor, in the worst cases, $7.—Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent Sealed for stamp to any one. Sold ONLY by the)

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1880.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—Even January was heard last night blowing about the weather.

—The Circuit Court was busy to-day with an ejectment suit, entitled Kinney vs Allen.

—That mud on Milwaukee street just get out of the way in time to keep from having its curls "frizzed" last night.

—All Souls' people and the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jenk Ll. Jones meet socially at the parsonage this evening.

—Fires are few. There hasn't been a blaze for over three months. The boys will soon start a bonfire just for the sake of drill.

—Rev. T. P. Sawin preached at the union service at the Presbyterian church last night. There will be a like service at the same church this evening.

—Tickets to the Round Table readings by Mrs. Frank Adams and Emily C. Evans, at Cannon's hall, Tuesday evening, February 3d, are now for sale at Moseley's book store.

—The Temple of Honor gave a pleasant party last evening. All who joined in the occasion pronounce it a happy one. The Temple cleared about $10 so that financially as well as socially it was a success.

—If the special meetings at the churches will only inspire drivers with enough religion so that they won't speed so fast over the crossings as to bespatter the foot travelers with mud, they will not have proved altogether a failure.

—A private letter has been received from Fred Holden, who now lies in jail in Chicago, awaiting trial. He expresses himself as very penitent for his dissolute conduct, but denies that he was mixed up in the alleged burglaries, and claims to be able to prove an alibi. He expect to be acquitted, and makes good promises for his future course of life.

MR. ROBBINS NO WORSE.

Mr. Robbins passed rather a restless night, but is more comfortable to-day, and is fully as well as yesterday, which is encouraging.

Another Cold-Water Organization Completed by the Election of Officers.

Yesterday afternoon the organization of a branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was completed at a meeting held at the Baptist church parlors. About forty ladies were present. The report of Committee on Nominations was received and the following officers elected:

President—Mrs J T Wright.

Vice Presidents—Mrs J B Crosby, of the Baptist church; Mrs J H Kinney, Presbyterian; Miss Lizzie P Little, Congregational; Mrs N Smith, Court Street Methodist; Mrs D G Tracy, First Methodist; Mrs J B Whiting, Christ Episcopal; Mrs E B Drake, All Souls; Miss Fannie Hudson, Trinity Episcopal.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. H. Faville.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. F. A. Lawrence.

Treasurer—Mrs. Martha E. Smiley.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted, and it was decided to hold public meetings as often as the Executive Committee, which is composed of all the officers, should determine. These organizations in other cities have done much good, and met with great success, and as this branch starts off with a membership of over seventy-five, there seems no reason why it should not be a permanent and useful organization, and a living branch.

MERRILY MATED.

Another matrimonial event of more than passing interest occurred this afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Carter, it being the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Ida E. Carter, to Mr. Wilson Lane, of Charles City, Iowa. Rev. F. S. Chapell, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated, and fully a hundred invited guests witnessed the ceremony, and joined in the happy occasion. The bride was dresed in a traveling suit of Jaundaun silk and blue satin, and wore the usual orange blossoms, while the groom was dressed in the conventional black dress suit. The floral decorations of the room were becoming the occasion, and the popular horse shoe design was not wanting. The ceremony occurred about 1 o'clock, and after time had been allowed for the expression of congratulations and well wishes, elaborate refreshments were served, presenting one of the most tempting marriage feasts which has been spread in many a day.

Among the guests present were several from out of the city—Mrs H Sayres, of Chicago, Mrs Henry Paine, and Miss Ella Bradish, of Decorah, Iowa, Mr A A Cratsenberg, of Madison, Mrs F A Bramer, Mrs A R Cleveland, and Mrs Story, of Chicago.

The newly wedded ones left on the 3:40 train for Madison, and from there will proceed to their new home in Charles City. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs Harry Carter, and the guests from Decorah, Iowa. The former will take their leave of them at Madison, but the friends from Decorah will accompany them to the end of their journey.

Mr. Lane is a prominent attorney of Charles City, commands the respect of all, and has many friends in the social as well as business circles of that city. The happy bride is widely known in the social circles of this city, and few could take their departure, who would leave behind so many friends and acquaintances. All join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Lane the brightest of futures, the richest of blessings, and such a share of the world's prosperity as they merit.

The following were among the gifts:

HENRY LEAR, Patriot, Ohio, writes: I was taken sick last Wednesday with a very severe Rheumatic pain in my left shoulder; I was so unwell that I could not even turn myself around in bed. Having heard of the curative qualities of ST JACOBS OIL, I concluded to try it. The first application brought relief, and on the subsequent day I was able to go to work. I therefore recommend this excellent remedy to all sufferers with Rheumatism.

THE STREET COMMISSIONERSHIP.

To the Editor:

It may be that the people would elect a better Street Commissioner than the Common Council would appoint, as was suggested by the writer of last Saturday's article, yet if that were true, which is by no means certain, there are some reasons why the Mayor and Council should have this appointment.

Section one, chapter six, of our charter provides that "the Council shall have full "control and power over and management "of all streets, alleys, lanes, and public "grounds in the city."

Also section forty, that "the Aldermen "of each ward shall faithfully apply and "expend all moneys * * * in procur-"labor and in the purchase of implements "and materials, deemed by them the most "beneficial for repairing streets and high-"ways and lanes in their respective wards"

The surveying and grading and special assessments are now, and for years have been, under the control of the Council.

Various provisions of the charter, including the oaths of office taken by the Mayor and Aldermen, make it one of the duties of the Council to keep the streets, culverts, &c., in good condition for general use.

If then they are responsible for the manner in which this work is done, should they not have the appointment of the man who is to act for them as the superintendent or overseer of the work?

It is idle to rail at the aldermen. Whether good, bad or indifferent, they were chosen by our votes and occupy their present positions and spend our money, by virtue of our expressed choice.

They can repair, grade and survey our streets, and fix our ward funds under the general law of our city. They make or withhold appropriations, allow or disallow bills as they see fit.

We growl and get indignant, at some of the unlawful acts of some of them, yet on election day we reelect them.

It is morally certain, that we could have better streets at less expense, if we had a good Commissioner to take the charge of them, but the Council, under the general provisions of the charter could deprive any commissioner whom the people should elect, of all power to accomplish any reform. Unless the general law is materially changed, the commissioner must be under the general direction of the Council, and this is as it should be. The Aldermen ought to know, and I believe they do know, what is needed in their respective wards, and they know how much money the tax payers desire to raise, and it is their duty to act for their constituents.

Our present defect is simply this. We do not bring to this important work of road and street making, any experience or system—one Alderman, employs his friend and his friend's team, to work on some street in his ward. The friend is anxious to get a large city order for a small amount of work, to make the job last as long as possible. The Aldermen are continually bored, by some of their constituents for jobs. "You gave such a man a job, and now you must give me one; I voted for you and induced others to vote for you." The men and teams are put on to the streets; nobody but the employe, keeps any account of time or service. A team twenty years old, and besides being lame and halt, gets just as much for working seven hours, as a fine strong team for hauling big loads for ten hours. A street that is traveled by light wagons only, and but very little, will be repaired more than it needs; while a main thoroughfare will remain for years in a wretched condition. But little regard is paid to the materials used; tools and implements are stolen and lost, and no one is responsible for it. Modest citizens, for the want of asking, go without repairs on their streets, while the bolder ones get the ward fund and so we go and have gone for the last 12 years. Our system is far more to blame than are the aldermen and I believe a majority of them would prefer a change from the present method. Under the proposed amendment, the aldermen would, at the beginning of each year, have from the commissioner, a written report of what work is to be done upon the streets, bridges, culverts, &c. They would amend, revise, or add, to the suggestion so made, and then direct their commissioner to carry out in detail, the general plan.

If he should be elected, instead of appointed, the responsibility would be divided, a result which should be avoided. We have for fifteen years trusted the Mayor and Council to do this street work, why not now permit them to choose a man to assist them in one of its most unpleasant duties. If they select their own man, it would tend to harmonize their action—while if he is not their appointee they will not so readily accept him or his work. Let us give this plan a trial for a few years, and if it does not succeed it can be changed.

With over abundant material, we ought in ten years at a moderate expense have better streets than are found in any city in the State.

The article in the Saturdays issue says that the petition was "ingeniously drawn," intimating that the signers thereto do not understand the nature of the petition. This is the heading.

To the Hon. F S Lawrence.

The undersigned resident tax-payers of the city of Janesville respectfully request that you will procure an amendment to our City Charter so that the Common Council of this city can appoint a Street Commissioner and define his duties and fix his pay.

Is that ingenious?

CITIZEN.

[That there is need of a Street Commissioner there is no doubt, for other reasons besides those stated in the above communication, but he should be chosen by the people. The writer of the above states that for fifteen years the Council has been trusted with the supervision of street work, and yet he admits that during at least twelve years past there has been great dissatisfaction, and not without cause. Why then allow them to continue to wield this power, by letting them have an agent of their own creation? If a man had not conducted a business satisfactorily, and a change was desirable, we would not think of letting him appoint an agent to attend to it, and continue to let him have complete control over the agent. A Street Commissioner chosen by the Council would represent only the will and wish of the Council, and would be but an echo of their voice. What is needed is some one to look after the people's interests, and not a tool for the Council. As stated before the Council would prove a check on him and he a check on the Council. If they are to appoint a Street Commissioner let them appoint a City Clerk, City Treasurer, City Attorney, and in fact fill all the offices.

It is a fact that a large number signed the petition without having their attention called to the mode of choosing the officer, and without giving that phase of the question any thought. They have since expressed themselves to this effect. It is therefore evident that the position was not in all cases understood by the signers—ED.]

Iron in the Blood.

It is a well known fact that without this life giving property in the blood it would in a short time become vitiated and poor, the system thereby becoming debilitated and run down. It is, however, only a few years, comparatively, that the compounding of this ingredient for medicinal purposes has been understood, and not until its adoption in the well-known PERUVIAN SYRUP has its full value as a tonic been recognized. This article, which has proved so efficacious in thousands of instances, is one of great importance, and in dyspepsia, general debility and similar complaints, has no equal in imparting tone and vigor to the system and restoring to nature its impaired vitality. It is one of the pleasantest medicines known to pharmacy, and can be used at all times to advantage. As nearly every one needs such medicine in the spring of the year, we would call attention to PERUVIAN SYRUP as the one entitled to the confidence of the community. —Boston Journal.

Catarrhal POISON!

1. That Catarrhal Colds become a poisonous infection, at first local, and finally constitutional.

2. That, being Constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.

3. That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs

4. That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Bronchitis, Leucorrhœa, and Consumption.

5. That smokes, Douches, Inhalations, and Insoluble Snuffs, cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named.

6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoculative affinity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucous wherever located.
